

National Military Intelligence Association (NMIA) Corporate Membership Application

A Proud Heritage

Our mission is to enhance the professionalism and sense of cohesiveness among military intelligence professionals, industry partners and associated law enforcement agencies to increase public understanding of the value of military intelligence.

We support conferences, symposia, meetings, and other exchanges of information among members; provide publications and electronic communications to inform members on issues of mutual interest; and support public recognition of military intelligence professionals and organizations through awards programs.

The National Military Intelligence Association (NMIA) was established in 1974, as an Army professional association. It evolved quickly into an organization to provide a professional forum for intelligence professionals in all the military Services, intelligence agencies, offices of the United States Government, Congress, industry, and academia to share ideas for their individual professional enhancement and the good of the Intelligence Community.

NMIA has been, for many years, the sole joint military intelligence professional association for the US armed forces and the various intelligence agencies. Professional development and collaboration among those involved in and supporting military intelligence is vital, because the intelligence function is a basic element of all military operations: on land, at sea, in the air, and in space. The Joint, combined and interagency orientation of NMIA is increasingly relevant as our nation deals with threats to our homeland.

New Membership or Renewal

Full membership in the National Military Intelligence Association is available to military and civil service personnel, as well as to reserve, National Guard, retired former service personnel, and to U.S. civilians in the industrial sector and law enforcement arena supporting the U.S. Intelligence system. U.S. citizens who have an interest in historical, literary, technical or academic aspects of intelligence and who support the mission and principles of the Association may also be eligible for membership. Associate membership may be available to personnel of allied nations. Subscriptions are also available to libraries.

I support the NMIA mission and apply for:
